

'Variety of Hand Stitches'

Sampler. Bands of varying heights of vertical stitches form a grid in which tonal changes can be made and movement – wavy or jagged – is added by a freely moving line of stitches within the grid.

Other small attempts have been made to make colour move within a limited colour range and the effect is mainly tonal.

